

Miss Mila

Lady from Spain to give piano treat

A renowned Spanish pianist, Miss Leonora Mila, will perform with the Hongkong Philharmonic Orchestra tomorrow and Saturday.

Miss Mila will play Ravel's Left Hand Piano Concerto with the orchestra, which will be conducted by the Welsh conductor, Alun Francis.

Mr Francis appeared with the Scottish Symphony Orchestra in last year's Hongkong Arts Festival.

Under his baton, the orchestra will play Vaughan-Williams' The Wasps Overture, Haydn's Symphony No 98 in B Flat and Arnold's English Dances.

Miss Mila received her musical education at the Conservatory Ars Nova in Barcelona. She gave her first performance at the age of six.

Since 1951, she has combined music studies and giving concerts in Switzerland, Germany, France, England and Australia.
